

UMRA UPPER MONONGAHELA RIVER ASSN.

www.uppermon.org

This calendar features new recreational boating facilities on the Upper Mon. For a complete list of all facilities, call the Greater Morgantown Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.tourmorgantown.com) at 304-292-5081 or toll free 1-800-458-7373 and request the UPPER MON WATER TRAIL map. The municipal facilities were financed by grants from the federal Boating Infrastructure Grant program, and/or state grants, e.g., WV for Rivesville dock. Pennsylvania Fish & Boat Commission for PA facilities. The Platinum Properties Upper Monongahela River Center docks (left) are a combination of private and State of WV funding via an economic development grant.

The Upper Monongahela River Center (UMRC) features Boathouse Bistro restaurant, WVU Women's Crew shoreside dock, and rental docks operated by Morgantown's BOPARC (www.boparc.org). Note southbound coal tow entering Morgantown Lock, and the old lockwall for former Lock I0 at Morgantown. WVU Foundation & university office building, and Waterfront Place Hotel (site of Mon River Summit III on Monday, April 7, 2008), are just south of the restaurant.

UMRC docks, looking north to Westover bridge. Note river fountain in distance at Morgantown's Hazel Ruby McQuain Park.

View from Westover bridge: Hazel Ruby McQuain Park, dock, and amphitheatre, with parking garage, WVU Foundation building and Waterfront Place Hotel in background. Rail trail and restaurants are nearby.

Looking south: McQuain amphitheatre dock, the river fountain, and in the distance Morgantown lock and dam. UMRC docks are just out of sight behind the trees at left, upriver.

Municipal docks at Pt. Marion, PA, city park, just south of bridge (in background) across the Mon where the Cheat River enters the Mon. Restaurants are nearby.
